

MedAdmit Medical School Application Processing

The AMCAS Integrated System that Manages the Entire Admissions Process Online

The MedAdmit™ system is the software-as-a-service (SaaS) tool that manages medical school admission application processing – from a student’s initial inquiry and AMCAS® (American Medical School Application Service) submission through decision and beyond. More than a simple electronic viewing system, MedAdmit is a secure web-based service that enables all authorized personnel to evaluate applications and record their comments and scores from any location with internet access.

Mobile Compatibility

MedAdmit lets you view and evaluate application forms on your desktop, tablet or smart phone, anywhere, anytime. Our responsive design technology makes evaluation on a mobile device even easier than on a computer.

With MedAdmit You Can:

- Eliminate filing, copying and hand circulating – your school saves time, paper and energy
- Centralize the entire review and evaluation process
- Change what you want, whenever you want, with this convenient self-service system
- Eliminate manual record creation – MedAdmit automatically creates a customizable electronic applicant record from each AMCAS submissions, with data fields configurable by school, department or user
- Simplify and streamline interview scheduling with the MedAdmit scheduling tool
- Organize all related application materials – MedAdmit automatically attaches the AMCAS application to the applicant’s supplemental application and all other documents you require from applicants
- Control who sees specific sections of the application by designating authorized viewers and limiting access to some or all fields, per individual or department
- Improve convenience and efficiency – authorized viewers can access the system from home, office or out of town; they can view side-by-side comparisons of applications and have multiple rounds of reviews
- Provide individual department or user control – each group may configure their own access or rounds of review for their applicant pool and access evaluations and comments at each stage
- Automatically sort applications and create application pools – MedAdmit automatically routes each application to the appropriate department or group on your campus
- Configure features to meet your needs – reviewers can easily locate individual applications using filtered search and other functions, according to your specifications
- Create and export valuable reports – MedAdmit provides robust reporting tools, including geographical mapping, which make it easy to identify, track and follow up with applicants
- Prevent loss and misplacement of documents – a big plus for efficiency and data security
- Provide a secure connection to the system using single sign-on access through Shibboleth or REST
